BEAR STORIES

Copyright2023 Anirvin Vishnu Varthanam

Let me tell you a little bit about my family. My parents and I make up a tiny family. KitKat, my wonderful dog and plush toy, is a wonder who brightened my days. He was my best friend till the day the Bear intruded on my household. From the start, he appears to be a stuffed toy, yet his movements are packed with mischievous characteristics. He feels he is often superior to people, and he believes he has been a member of my family since the beginning. With so many convincing words, he demands for his rights. His naivety made us laugh and despite his misbehavior, we began to believe he was one of us, a member of the family. The stories in the book are about his and our adventures.

BEARS BIRTHDAY – STORY 1

Bear has been making noise in the kitchen since the morning. "Bear, why are you making such a racket?" Anirvin asked.

"You all forgot about the special day," Bear stated. You don't care about me or my particular occasions." "What's so special?" Anirvin inquired. Today is the most important day in the history of the world because it marks the birth of the intelligent bear. "Today is my birthday." "So, what special thing do you want today?" Anirvin inquired. "I need fish, honey, and money," Bear said. "Why money?" Anirvin wondered. "Buy a gift," Bear said. Which one do you want, and I'll buy it for you? Bear instructed a ribbon to be tied around the neck. That, too, is a red one. Anirvin was puzzled but because it was Bear's special day, he purchased it online. The night has arrived, and the house has been decorated with balloons. There are so many balloons. The bear visited Chikku, the monkey, Paddington, the tiny bear, and Snow, the tiger. Yes, we never got tired of Kitkat the dog or Leo the new lion and all of them are wonderful plush toys. Everyone was present at the gathering. Anirvin asked his mother to bake a birthday cake. She baked a massive chocolate cake. The party had begun when everyone began singing the happy birthday song! Bear took the red ribbon and stated that he would select who would knot it for him. Finally, he persuaded Kitkat that he should have the ribbon because he is both the bear's buddy and enemy. It's finally time to cut the cake. Bear was getting ready to cut his cake. Kitkat was summoned to cut the cake. Kitkat was really taken aback. Then Bear said, "It's okay because this is Kitkat's surprise birthday party!" Kitkat was overjoyed and informed me that this was the finest birthday party she has ever attended! Of course, the bear will not leave any cake. Anirvin was getting hungry. His mother instructed him to take a cookie from the kitchen. He went through all of the boxes and discovered only three biscuits and two cookies. "My chips packet is half finished," his father said at one point. Anirvin and his father exchanged suspicious glances. "Forget it, go do some other work," his mother said. "I feel sorry for you Anirvin, it's fine, I will catch the thief soon," Anirvin's friend Bear said. The next day, a similar situation occurred, and there were no more chips and biscuits. Anirvin and his father were up at night on the second day to capture the thief, but sleep never left them alone; it hugged both of them. "I caught you," his father said the next day to Anirvin. He inquired, "What?" The father stated that there are broken biscuit crumbs and crunchy chips in his bed. Anirvin was taken aback and shifted all of his toys. Under the bear's head, there were two biscuit crumbs. "Open your mouth, bear," Anirvin said. "If I open my mouth, the cookies will fall out," Bear stated, "so give me a bag to put them in first." "The old cookies were the best," he remarked, "so buy the same brand from now on and keep the kitchen light on at night." Anirvin said, here is the thief father, you couldn't catch him. His father was blinking. The hungry bear was spotted by Anirvin as the thief.

BEAR'S CHALLENGE – STORY 2

From the morning onwards Bear was quite busy. He was moving about and doing some workout. "Bear, why are you so restless?" KitKat inquired. Is there a problem? "I can add to it." He chuckled at the bear. Bear explained that it is not a problem, but rather a memorable day for him. Then he whispered in Kitkat's ear, the special thing, and KitKat said it was impossible. Bear continued to dance. Some physical activity. Anirvin arrived and inquired as to what was going on with the bear. "I'm going to complete a challenge today," bear said. "Challenge? "I'm interested as well," Anirvin replied. "Can you tell me more about the challenge?" "I'm going to eat three balls in two months," stated the bear. "Can anyone eat it?" It's not conceivable, replied Anirvin and Kitkat. "Then what's the difference between ordinary people like you and extraordinary people like me?" Bear confidently said. He stated that if he wins, each of them must give him one chocolate. Everyone has now accepted the challenge. "Now I'll bring the balls," Bear said. "I have some softballs and a football, which one will you eat first?" Anirvin asked. "I'll take the rough and crispy ball, you all wait," Bear said. Rather than heading to Anirvin's room, he went to the kitchen. He displayed the three balls and ate them all at once. Everyone was stunned at first, and they jumped on Bear in rage. Bear had gobbled up three cheese balls!

THE DAY BEAR BAKES A CAKE – STORY 3

It had been a cool spring morning. The rooster's crowing disturbed the bear to sleep. "Aah, what is that?" he murmured as he rolled out of bed. The sun had just come out, and the landscape outside his tree house was misty. "How should I proceed now?" Before I go out to play with my buddies, I have a lot of time in my brain. As a result, Bear decided to bake. He walked to the kitchen and began looking for all of the ingredients: sugar, flour, eggs, cinnamon, butter, banana, honey, dates, and cream for frosting; his mouth was now watering. He got a large bowl and poured the sugar (which went straight into his stomach), some flowers, eggs, a cup of butter, and a dollop of it straight into his mouth. He couldn't stop himself from eating honey, dates, and bananas. He started whisking all of the ingredients together with his hand. "I need to test the sugar, so it's fine if I licked my fingers a little." One, two, three, and finally ten fingers in his mouth. Yummy! The battles in the pan were placed in the oven. The air was filled with the aroma of warm, delicious cake. Bear started beating the cream, egg, and sugar together. The icing was made of fluffy. How could he possibly resist? His mouth slipped into the bowl, and he lapped and licked the entire cream. With his face coated in cream, he hurried to take the cake out of the oven, only to discover that it was completely burnt. "All my hard work has gone to waste!" thought Bear. But don't worry, I've got all the ingredients within my stomach, including the cream on top!

HAPPY BAKING!

BEAR GOES FOR A TRIP – STORY 4

It was a Sunday morning, and Bear was deeply asleep while everyone else was rushing around. "Where is my honey?" asked Bear when he awoke. However, he was unaware that Anirvin and his family were packing everything. Bear inquired as to what was going on. Anirvin stated that his family is attending a wedding. Anirvin questioned his father about the proposal, and he agreed, but Anirvin's mother was not so happy about it. After some time, the cab arrived to pick them up, and the bear was shocked by how large it was. Bear asked as to why it was so large, and Anirvin replied that we needed a lot of space for the family; Bear desired to ride in the front seat with the driver. Anirvin and his father went Bear to buy ice cream when he saw an ice cream shop on the way and begged the driver to stop. Bear wanted all of them, but Anirvin's father refused since they would melt and fall all over the car. Bear agrees, but he is also upset. A tragedy occurred on the way home at midnight! The tire was punctured, and the tire store was closed because it occurred in the midst of a small road, but fortunately, the driver was also a mechanic, so he remedied the problem. Bear was freezing because it was raining intensely when the family arrived at the motel at 2 p.m. They booked two hotel rooms and called it a night. The next day, bear awakens on the table! Anirvin, his father, and mother are all set to eat breakfast at the wedding hall. The bear felt happy since he had been hungry for a long time. Everyone had been seated, and food had been served. When Bear's dinner arrived, he gobbled it in one sitting. Everyone was stunned when they saw how he did it. Anirvin eventually accompanied Bear to the wedding hall. There was a flower pile for the wedding. The family travels to the church in the evening for the wedding. Bear recognizes and greets the Couple. The couple was taken aback when they discovered a talking teddy bear. Anirvin tells the Couple about Bear, and then the wedding begins. Bear becomes bored after 20 minutes, so he stealthily takes the phone from Anirvin's pocket and begins viewing YouTube videos while eating honey. Anirvin notices what Bear is doing and removes the phone and honey container from him, telling him to be quiet. The couple was about to leave the church, and the drone began filming them. Bear noticed the drone and jumped to be visible in the footage. Later, as the family arrives at the wedding venue, Bear notices someone selling cotton candy and asks Anirvin if he can eat some, but Anirvin refuses since it would get very sticky. Bear expresses a desire to sleep on the bed once they return to the motel at night. Anirvin's father was not thrilled with the plan because it meant sleeping on the couch. Anirvin's father moved Bear to the couch and slept on the bed while Bear was sleeping. Bear pulls Anirvin's father off the bed and sleeps in his place 10 minutes later. After a while, Anirvin brings Bear to the couch to sleep. But Bear had gone missing by the morning! Anirvin's mother was upset with Anirvin's father and Anirvin for failing to care for Bear. After 30 minutes of searching they did, Bear says, "I want cold coffee." And they discovered him asleep beneath the bed! When they questioned Bear why he was sleeping under the bed, he said, "I'm feeling cozy here, than above the snoring bed!"
